Dear Rep. Burton:

It is with great pleasure that we award you American Future Fund's 2010 "Free Market Defender" award.

This award is given to select United States Representatives who best represent and uphold the conservative, free market ideals on which this nation was founded.

The award is based on ten votes rated by American Future Fund as vital to upholding the nation's free market principles with regard to the economy, defense and global competitiveness. To see ratings for all 433 U.S. Representatives, please visit our web site, <http://americanfuturefund.com>.

American Future Fund operates as a 501(c)(4) and was formed to provide Americans with a conservative and free market viewpoint to have a mechanism to communicate and advocate on the issues that most interest and concern them. Conservative and free market principles continue to be under direct attack in America. In light of that, it is imperative there be a voice for conservative principles that sustains free market ideals focused on bolstering America's global competitiveness across the country.

Congratulations on your "Free Market Defender" award, and thank you for standing strong for our shared conservative, free market ideals.

Sincerely,

Nick Ryan
